Make America Colorful Again

A Donald Trump coloring book, badly drawn

Art by Joey Yang

Book by Christine Cooper

I have a notebook of blind contour drawings, where I draw things without looking at the page. It's supposed to build hand-eye coordination, but you also make some really funny and bad drawings.

A lot of my drawings are of Donald Trump. I've turned some of them into this coloring book. In many of these, I've ended up mangling him in some unfortunate way. As a result, some of these pictures look funny, but some look frightening.

Color him in any way you want! You might also find your own ways to mangle him in some unfortunate way. But as you color these, you might find it interesting to see him in a shape or color you don't normally see him. Maybe he won't look so funny, or so frightening. Or maybe he will.

Jokes aside, we might shrug off Trump's promises to build a wall or ban Muslim immigration, but America has done similar things before. I care because it's happened to Chinese-Americans. The Chinese Exclusion Act of 1882¹, which stood for 61 years, was the first law implemented to prevent a specific ethnic group from immigrating to the United States. Redlining also segregated communities with "predominance of Orientals"² and made them ineligible for Federal Housing Administration mortgages, along with neighborhoods that had "Negroes, Latin races, and other low class foreign elements."² I have no interest in an America where that is a reality for anyone.

The real threat to American values isn't the people of different colors and creeds who make up this country — it's demagogues like Trump who put us down and try to turn us against each other. We're a stronger nation when we look out for each other, no matter where we come from. America is great because it's a colorful place. Let's keep it that way.

All proceeds from this book will be donated to the International Institute of the Bay Area, a non-profit organization that provides high-quality, low-cost immigration legal services to the Bay Area community.

This book is dedicated to anyone who's ever felt out of place in America. I also owe special thanks to:

Christine Cooper, for designing the book and always encouraging me to be myself
Pam Lanza, for teaching me how to do these drawings
Adrien Pritchard, for your bookmaster's wisdom
Tim Faust, Paula Mejia, and Shea Serrano, for the inspiration
Siegfried Bilstein, for showing me we are all creative
All my friends for entertaining my wacky ideas
And finally to my parents, for coming to America, and for all your courage and sacrifices

At the time of publishing, this book is available for free at MakeAmericaColorfulAgain.com/trump_ebooks.pdf and is released into the public domain under CC0 1.0.

¹ Full text on the last page of this book. Please don't let that stop you from drawing all over it.

Bonus drawings!

I drew a few of Trump's other friends,
who are on the next couple of pages.

Bernie Sanders

Hillary Clinton, 1st attempt

Hillary Clinton, 2nd attempt

Draw your own Trump!

If you're looking at these pictures and think "hey, anyone can do that," you're right — and you should do it!

The next two pages are for you to try making blind-contour drawings of Trump yourself. They probably won't look too accurate, but that's exactly what makes these so funny. And besides, if it comes out looking really bad, maybe that makes it better anyways.

Here are the instructions:

1. Look at your favorite picture of Trump. Don't look down at your paper.
2. Slowly follow the curves of the figure with your eye and your pen at the same time.
3. Don't pick up your pen. The entire drawing should be one line.
4. Take your time! It should take 3-5 minutes.

You never know what's going to come out of your pen. Try it!

Draw on me!

An Act to Execute Certain Treaty Stipulations Relating to Chinese

Whereas, in the opinion of the Government of the United States the coming of Chinese laborers to this country endangers the good order of certain localities within the territory thereof; Therefore,

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That from and after the expiration of ninety days next after the passage of this act, and until the expiration of ten years next after the passage of this act, the coming of Chinese laborers to the United States be, and the same is hereby, suspended; and during such suspension it shall not be lawful for any Chinese laborer to come, or having so come after the expiration of said ninety days, to remain within the United States.

SEC. 2. That the master of any vessel who shall knowingly bring within the United States on such vessel, and land or permit to be landed, any Chinese laborer, from any foreign port or place, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $500 for each and every such Chinese laborer so brought, and may be also imprisoned for a term not exceeding one year.

SEC. 3. That the two foregoing sections shall not apply to Chinese laborers who were in the United States on the 17th day of November, 1880, or who shall have come into the same before the expiration of ninety days next after the passage of this act...

SEC. 4. That for the purpose of properly identifying Chinese laborers who were in the United States on the 17th day of November, 1880, or who shall have come into the same before the expiration of ninety days next after the passage of this act, and in order to furnish them with the proper evidence of their right to go from and come to the United States of their free will and accord, as provided by the treaty between the United States and China dated November 17, 1880, the collector of customs of the district from which any such Chinese laborer shall depart from the United States shall, in person or by deputy, go on board each vessel having on board any such Chinese laborer and cleared or about to sail from his district for a foreign port, and on such vessel make a list of all such Chinese laborers, which shall be entered in registry-books to be kept for that purpose, in which shall be stated the name, age, occupation, last place of residence, physical marks or peculiarities, and all facts necessary for the identification of each of such Chinese laborers, which books shall be safely kept in the custom-house; and every such Chinese laborer so departing from the United States shall be entitled to, and shall receive, free of any charge or cost upon application therefor, from the collector or his deputy, at the time such list is taken a certificate, signed by the collector or his deputy and attested by his seal of office, in such form as the Secretary of the Treasury shall prescribe, which certificate shall contain a statement of the name, age, occupation, last place of residence, personal description, and facts of identification of the Chinese laborer to whom the certificate is issued, corresponding with the said list and registry in all particulars...

SEC. 5. That any Chinese laborer mentioned in section four of this act being in the United States, and desiring to depart from the United States by land, shall have the right to demand and receive, free of charge or cost, a certificate of identification similar to that provided for in section four of this act to be issued to such Chinese laborers as may desire to leave the United States by water; and it is hereby made the duty of the collector of customs of the district next adjoining the foreign country to which said Chinese laborer desires to go to issue such certificate, free of charge or cost, upon application by such Chinese laborer, and to enter the same upon registry-books to be kept by him for the purpose, as provided for in section four of this act.

SEC. 6. That in order to the faithful execution of articles one and two of the treaty in this act before mentioned, every Chinese person other than a laborer who may be entitled by said treaty and this act to come within the United States, and who shall be about to come to the United States, shall be identified as so entitled by the Chinese Government in each case, such identity to be evidenced by a certificate issued under the authority of said government, which certificate shall be in the English language or (if not in the English language) accompanied by a translation into English, stating such right to come, and which certificate shall state the name, title, or official rank, if any, the age, height, and all physical peculiarities, former and present occupation or profession, and place of residence in China of the person to whom the certificate is issued and that such person is entitled conformably to the treaty in this act mentioned to come within the United States...

SEC. 7. That any person who shall knowingly and falsely alter or substitute any name for the name written in such certificate or forge any such certificate, or knowingly utter any forged or fraudulent certificate, or falsely personate any person named in any such certificate, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor; and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in a sum not exceeding $1,000, and imprisoned in a penitentiary for a term of not more than five years.

SEC. 8. That the master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place shall, at the same time he delivers a manifest of the cargo, and if there be no cargo, then at the time of making a report, of the entry of the vessel pursuant to law, in addition to the other matter required to be reported, and before landing, or permitting to land, any Chinese passengers, deliver and report to the collector of customs of the district in which such vessels shall have arrived a separate list of all Chinese passengers taken on board his vessel at any foreign port or place, and all such passengers on board the vessel at that time...

SEC. 9. That before any Chinese passengers are landed from any such vessel, the collector, or his deputy, shall proceed to examine such passengers, comparing the certificates with the list and with the passengers; and no passenger shall be allowed to land in the United States from such vessel in violation of law...

SEC. 11. That any person who shall knowingly bring into or cause to be brought into the United States by land, or who shall knowingly aid or abet the same, or aid or abet the landing in the United States from any vessel of any Chinese person not lawfully entitled to enter the United states, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall, on conviction thereof, be fined in a sum not exceeding $1,000, and imprisoned for a term not exceeding one year.

SEC. 12. That no Chinese person shall be permitted to enter the United States by land without producing to the proper officer of customs the certificate in this act required of Chinese persons seeking to land from a vessel...

SEC. 13. That this act shall not apply to diplomatic and other officers of the Chinese Government traveling upon the business of that government, whose credentials shall be taken as equivalent to the certificate in this act mentioned, and shall exempt them and their body and household servants from the provisions of this act as to other Chinese persons.

SEC. 14. That hereafter no State court or court of the United States shall admit Chinese to citizenship; and all laws in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

SEC. 15. That the words "Chinese laborers," wherever used in this act, shall be construed to mean both skilled and unskilled laborers and Chinese employed in mining.

Approved, May 6, 1882.
